Privacy Statement

Privacy Statement

OYHFS recognizes the importance of maintaining the privacy, confidentiality and security of personal identifiable information. We are committed to privacy practices that protect all users of our website, therefore, OYHFS does not collect, store or use information that is obtained through this website except as described below.

Information We Collect

If someone visits our site to read or download information, we collect and store:

- the name of the domain and host from which the person is accessing the internet;
- the internet protocol address of the host server the person is using;
- the name and version of the Web browser;
- the date and time the person accessed our site; and,
- if the person comes to us through a link from some other website, the internet address of the website from which they linked to us.

We do not collect any names or email addresses.

We do not share or sell this information to third-party companies. We may use this information to measure the number of visitors to the different pages of our website. We also use this information to monitor network traffic and to identify unauthorized access or unusual activity on the site.

Some parts of the site may use a 'cookie', which is a small text file that is placed on the computer's hard drive. The cookie captures no personally identifiable information. This site may use a cookie in order to log which pages the user visits on the site or to provide certain features during the visit to the site. People can set their browser to refuse to accept cookies; however, some enhancement features of this and other sites may not function properly if they do this.

Information People Provide To Us

If someone sends us an email or message and provides us their name or other personal information, we may keep this information. We may use this information to send an answer to the person's question or deliver requested information to them. By sending an email or making a request or inquiry, they give permission to OYHFS to keep and use the information they have given consistent with this policy.

If persons enter information in an online form or register as an OYHFS subscriber or as a user of certain online information and tools, we may keep this information. We may use this information that they provide in order to verify their eligibility to use the site or tools that they wish to use.

Security

OYHFS has adopted policies and practices designed to protect the security and confidentiality of our donor and consumer information, to protect against anticipated threats and hazards to security and integrity of the information, and to protect against unauthorized use of and inappropriate access to the information, which could result in substantial harm or inconvenience.

Changes to This Privacy Statement

We reserve the right to revise or change this policy. Any changes to our policy will be posted on this site.
